FAREWELL WORDS FROM OUR FORMAL CHAIR

Dear CPS members,

After four particularly busy years as President of the CPS, it was with great pleasure that I handed over to Stéphanie Alenda of Andrés Bello University last fall. As organizer in 2017 of a magnificent three-day international conference in Santiago de Chile on the theme "Redefining political sociology", Stéphanie has proved to be a kind of natural successor to this function. I remain vice-president and will continue to serve the CPS in this role, with the help of the other vice-president, Robert Fishman, and the other members of the CPA Executive committee. So it is not a total farewell....

WELCOME WORDS FROM OUR NEW CHAIR

Dear all,

First, I would like to introduce myself. My name is Stéphanie Alenda, I am originally from France, and since 2017 I am the new Chair of the Research Committee on Political Sociology. My objective during these 4 years is the consolidation of our committee inaugurated at the Congress of Sociology by a group of leading scholars: G. Sartori, J.J. Linz, S. Rokkan, K.W. Deutsch, and others, within two major international associations: IPSA. This represents a huge challenge as it is a reflection on the identity of a frontier discipline that renowned scholars sought to institutionalize. I have other projects that we will be sharing with you. I will be sending bi-annual newsletters providing them with relevant information regarding political sociology, scientific activities and events, CPS, collaboration opportunities, and other information members will provide. This new board is also formed by:

- Laurence Morel, Vice-Chair
- Robert Fishman, Vice-Chair
- Julieta Suárez-Cao, Treasurer and Secretary
- Karina Kosiara-Pedersen, Officer
- Hiroko Takeda, Officer
- Michelangelo Vercesi, Officer
- Dan Slater, Officer
- Carolina Aylwin, Executive Assistant

2020: a challenging year

Without a doubt, 2020 has been a challenging and difficult year. However, from all regions of the world we have learned to adapt to new ways of working. This includes the development of studies in Political Sociology, a discipline that has much to contribute to the new phenomena we face in the COVID era. Due to the constraints of the pandemic a number of our colleagues' events have had to be postponed to 2021 for security reasons. Best regards to all our colleagues, keep safe and we look forward to meeting you in 2021!

Say goodbye to 2020

We are leaving behind one of the most difficult years we have ever lived. The pandemic of Covid-19 has left us with an enormous economic and human cost. Nevertheless, 2020 has also taught us about our societies, ways of organizing and political leaderships. Lessons we should incorporate to our new context. Today more than ever, the hope placed in the vaccines that are being developed in different parts of the world give us the possibility to think about the new challenges that research in political sociology (and the social sciences in general) should face in the understanding of diverse phenomena.

For now, we must be patient and wait. Stay safe.

WELCOME TO OUR NEW EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

We want to bid farewell to Carolina Aylwin, our Executive Assistant for the years 2018 and 2020, wishing her all the best. We also want to give welcome to Gustavo Valenzuela, our new Executive Assistant and co-editor of the Newsletter.

Gustavo Valenzuela has a Political Science degree from Universidad Católica de Chile, and he is doing a master's degree in Latin American Anthropology at the Universidad Alberto Hurtado. Valenzuela has developed an interest in political culture and worked on issues related to clientelism and subnational politics. Also, he has experience as research assistant in projects about clientelism, mobilization and political violence. Recently, he has been working on a project about policies of entrepreneurship in disadvantaged localities through an ethnographic perspective. You can contact him at the following email: gvalenzuela@uc.cl
