

The Working Group on Political Inequality (POLINQ) is organized around the concept of political inequality as a distinct form of social stratification and as a subfield of political sociology. The purpose of the Working Group on POLINQ is to (a) publish research in first rate social science journals and high quality monographs on issues of political inequality, (b) to encourage members and affiliated professionals to write funding proposals to obtain grants, fellowships and other awards related to political inequality, (c) organize conferences and similar events dedicated to presenting first-rate research on political inequality, (d) facilitate the international collaboration of scholars interested in the field of political inequality, and (e) encourage the scholarly community to become official members of ISA RC18 and IPSA RC6.
